The chase began on Broadway and proceeded at a 90 mph clip along Fourth street, until a shot was fired in the air by Patrolman George Rhodes, and the speeding car nearly missed the Fourth street curve, finally stopping at Route 3.

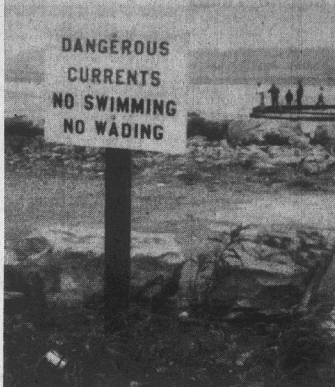

When the car stopped, police noticed three men were in the front seat, and one was trying to change places with the driver. This was accomplished as the officers got out of their patrol car.

The new driver of the other car, police said, tried to take off and backed into the front of the patrol car, causing about $100 damage. When another attempt was made to speed away, Patrolman Rhodes shot the left rear tire.

Police said the speeding driver was 17-year-old Fred Tanner, 1215 Grand avenue, Madison, who was charged with driving after curfew, attempting to elude police, speeding and driving while his license was revoked.

The second driver, Charles Mansfield, 41, of 2113 Astor avenue, Madison, was charged with disturbing the peace and careless driving. The auto owner, Pace, was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive.

Burglars Foiled In Break-in at GC Drug Store

Tricky Hit and Run Driver Leaves 'Note'

J. M. Dorich, 2804 Sunset drive, turned over to the police Friday a note left by a motorist who apparently backed into his automobile while parked in front of his home, about 6:30 p.m.

The note stated: "While I write this the neighbors are watching. They think I am writing my name and license number. But I'm not. I'm broke."

The message was printed in block letters.

Woman Surprises Brazen Burglars Looting House

A pair of brazen thieves backed their auto up to a garage door at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strain, 2108 Manley avenue, and leisurely removed movie equipment, clothes, luggage and other items valued at more than $1000 from the basement shortly after 2 p.m. Thursday.

The burglary was still in progress when Mrs. Strain returned home from a 25-minute shopping trip and while her 12-year-old son was playing in a neighbor's yard—two houses away. The large garage doors had been left open, but access doors into the house and basement area were locked, she said.

Mrs. Strain said the burglars were colored males, between 25 and 30-years-old. One was about six feet tall and weighed about 200 pounds. The other, who appeared smaller in stature and wore sunglasses, remained behind the wheel of the dark red and white auto which the larger man was loading the loot. Both men were neatly-dressed, she added.

Car was loaded Upon noticing the strange car, backed to the garage with its trunk open, Mrs. Strain parked her auto at the next house and walked up the driveway—and asked the pair what they were doing. The larger man told her they wanted to know if the householder needed the grass cut.

She walked to the rear of the car, after observing the front license plate was missing and saw a panel in the rear door, stacked in the trunk. She bent down to read the rear license plate number.

The complaint states Patricia Strain, 1943 Belmont avenue, filed suit for damages in circuit court at Edwardsville. Patricia's complaint alleges the company was negligent in permitting the hole to exist on its property and that with proper care on the company's part his injury would have been avoided.

Alarm Sounds after 3 Chop Hole in Roof; Other Thefts Occur

Burglars hacked a hole in the roof of the Bellemeur Village Reese drug store early today but were foiled by a central alarm system.

After receiving the alarm at 2:20 a.m., police patrol cars converged around the store and caught three men from Covington, Ky., at the scene. The trio had already pried open a first-floor safe and had removed a bank bag of money and some loose currency. The amount was not immediately determined.

Charged with burglary were Sammy Stevens, 24, Marvin Stanton, 19, and Robert Howard, 18. Stevens and Stanton were caught inside the store and Howard was still on the roof. A .38 caliber revolver was found on the roof a few feet away from Howard.

A chisel and a ball pen hammer were used to chop the hole in the center of the roof, and police officers also confiscated several screw drivers and two crow bars apparently used in the burglary.

Stevens cut his arm while going through the roof and was treated at the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

All three were attired in white hospital gowns while undergoing investigation. This morning as their clothing was taken for thorough inspections, police said the three had been registered at a local motel. They were being held pending further appearance where bonds and preliminary hearings were expected to be set today.

Typewriter, Cash Stolen A typewriter valued at $200, a $225 adding machine and $5 from a cash box were taken from Tri-City Heating Co., 2167 Marston avenue, Thursday night, police were told by George N. Schwager, who reported the break-in at 7:45 a.m. Friday. He said entry was gained by climbing a fence and entering a panel in the rear door. The intruders also ransacked the office area.

A burglary at the Blossom Shoppe, 1943 Belmont avenue, Thursday night netted the thieves $10 in currency and small change. Roy Brannan, 23rd street and Nameoki road, Carl Werthe reported to police at 8 a.m. Friday. He said the burglary occurred during the early morning hours and speculated the thieves had hidden in the building at closing time. There was no sign of forced entry.

'Enjoyment of Learning' Opens New Doors

"Emphasis on education for the enjoyment of learning" is the theme of the Summer Enrichment Program being in completion at Prather Junior high school.

Fifteen courses are being studied by the nearly 250 students enrolled in the program. Each student takes two courses, each course being an hour and 20 minutes in length and meeting each week day for seven weeks. The courses will end July 18.

The program, which is offered to academically talented students from the intermediate levels of all public and parochial schools in Granite City, is designed to assist youngsters in "learning for the sake of learning" and not to gain advance standing in the regular school program.

Children are encouraged to work in areas in which they have a strong interest. The program suggests and teaches activities which can be used to fill the needs of the individual during leisure hours. Many of the courses have a "carry-over value" to activities which might be continued in the home and in family activities.

All courses being offered are rather loosely structured to allow the student freedom to work on specific areas within the broader area of the subject the child is taking. Teachers work as resource persons to aid the students on special projects.

Over 90 students are taking one of the three foreign languages which are offered. Most are studying Spanish with a lesser number in Russian and German. These are based on the conversational approach to teaching a foreign language. In science, four courses are offered with 150 students enrolled. This course emphasizes specific areas of study in science such as oceanography, prehistoric times, nature study, or the use of scientific equipment.

The social sciences are represented by such subjects as novels in paperback, imaginative writing, band and creative dramatics with 100 enrolled. These offer an opportunity for children to express themselves in various media in a creative fashion.

"Hall of Fame" Two courses are offered in history, "Hall of Fame," which is the study of people who have contributed to the culture, and History of Illinois, which is of (Continued on page 3, col. 3)

Washington Meet Set on 'Freeze' Of Highway Funds

Illinois State officials are to meet today in Washington to federal highway officials to outline steps being taken to out- freeze about $30 million in federal grants for highway projects in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Plans for the Washington conference were made at Springfield last week during a meeting of about 50 contractors, business agents for craft unions, East St. Louis officials and state and federal officials who were told that highway construction costs in the Madison-St. Clair county area are about 25% higher than the state-wide average.

Federal officials, on July 1, notified Illinois highway officials that no more federal funds would be available on roads in the two-county area until the state presents a positive program concerning price-cost differentials and equal employment opportunities on highway projects.

As a result, the state had to withdraw a call for bids for July 23 on two projects involving cost of $2.3 million. The directive also delays plans for about $30 million in construction work over the next 12 months according to Norbert J. Johnson, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Works.

Representatives of the Southern Illinois Contractors Association and the Southern Illinois Builders Association have presented a new proposal for a training program for members of minority groups.

The proposal is to be submitted by union representatives to their respective groups for consideration. It was pointed out that some unions are sponsoring training of minority group members in their crafts.

Johnson, a d. Robert B. Maher, legislative assistant to Gov. Shapiro, are among those in Washington to meet with federal highway officials concerning the freeze order. They said the directive did not specify what steps would be taken to lift the order.

Gov. Shapiro spoke at the opening of the Springfield meeting, urging cooperation of all groups to resolve the problem which, he said, could have an important effect upon the economy of the Madison-St. Clair county area. He said the state would do all it could to help solve the problem.

The freeze order directive did not affect other parts of the state. It followed investigation by federal authorities of construction cost on highway jobs in the bi-county area and of the number of Negroes employed on construction jobs.

Some union members have disputed figures stating that of 134 employees now employed on seven projects in the area, only 84 are from minority groups.

Suit Seeks $350,000 From Two Area Firms

A suit for $350,000 damages against A. O. Smith Corp. and the Union Star & Refining Co. has been filed in circuit court at Edwardsville by a Union Star worker who claims he suffered permanent injuries at the starch plant on July 12, 1966.

Joseph Anderson alleges in the complaint that as a workman at the starch plant he was assigned to make repairs on a digger machine used to remove feed products from a tank at the starch plant.

Material in the tank collapsed while he was working, causing permanent injuries for which he has paid and will continue to pay large sums for medical care, the bill charges.

Comprehensive Program At Alton State Outlined

Dr. Ivan Pavlovic, Mental Health Zone VII director, and Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent of Alton State Hospital, recently named Dr. Richard Murney to be director of the Madison County Comprehensive Mental Health Program at the hospital. Dr. Murney formerly served Zone VII as a consulting psychiatrist.

Dr. Murney said, "The director role will be to coordinate both hospital and community mental health services for Madison County residents. In the past, the hospital and community services have been separated organizationally."

The Madison county unit at Alton State will become an independent service in the following areas: administration, services and programs, and organization. The director also will have the authority to define, plan and implement mental health programs consistent with the needs determined to exist in Madison county.

The comprehensive program will include the development of services in the following areas:

In-Patient — treatment services for individuals who must be resident patients in the state hospital or in other public or private hospitals.

Out-Patient — treatment services for individuals living and working in the community but require assistance with problems of living.

Partial Hospitalization—Services for individuals who are living at home but require hospital services a part of the day or night.

Emergency Service — immediate services available 24 hours a day for emergency psychiatric problems.

Education and Training—development of mental health awareness and educational programs and the training of professional and non-professional mental health workers.

Dr. Simon commented: "At the present time, no such program is contemplated for St. Clair-Monroe Unit, or Eastern Counties Unit."

Mrs. Strain, who said she could identify the burglars if apprehended, noted she was forced to jump backward from the car to avoid being knocked down when the get-away car raced out of the drive.

She immediately notified police and a patrol car responded "very quickly," but not soon enough to encounter the burglars driving away, she said. She also notified her husband who operates a downtown service station to be on the lookout for the auto which she reported as a 1963-65 four-door model in good condition.

An electric humidifier, portable television, two movie projectors, two movie cameras, a screen, various clothing items and luggage were among the things taken by the thieves, who removed the items from a basement ratskeller.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a floor-length bridal gown of silk organza, designed with a fitted bodice, re-embroidered with Venise lace, a scooped neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. A detachable wattleau train edged with Venise lace was secured at the shoulders with ivory bows and flowed gently into a Cathedral-length train.

as best man, with William Hilleman, the bride's brother, as groomsmen.

Seating guests at the church were Eldred Adamson, brother-in-law of the bride, and David P. Evans, a nephew of the groom.

During the reception, held at the Round Table in Collinsville immediately following the ceremony, Miss Janet Young accompanied Miss Mills, Ned Tapp and Miss Pat Young as they presented a number of musical selections.

Guests were served a buffet luncheon, with Miss Nina Purdes serving as hostess and Mrs. Larry Pratt presiding over the guest book.

Miss Pamela Ann Toundas Bride of Richard Gilmore

St. John Lutheran Church

was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Miss Pamela Ann Toundas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Toundas, 1801 Pontoon road, and Richard Gilmore, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Route Two, Collinsville.

The Rev. Samuel Boda officiated at 7 o'clock in the evening before the flower-bedecked altar lighted with burning candles in branched candelabra. Music for the ceremony was furnished by Miss Phyllis Boda, organist, and Angelo Hamilton, vocalist. The latter sang "I Walk With God."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pure white satin. The bodice had a high round neckline trimmed with lace and long sleeves gathered at the wrists for modulated fullness.

The straight cage had a satin band and miniature satin-covered buttons down the front to the hem line. The back, also buttoned, was accented with fullness, terminating half way in a full train. Two satin bows covered with lace accented the train. Satin rosebuds and leaves sprinkled with pearls and traced with seed pearls held a three-tiered shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Toundas, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant, and Miss Sandra Toundas, another sister, and Miss Linda Hatscher, were bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in pink rayon faille. Made on Empire lines, they had scoop necklines and short sleeves. The bodices were banded with lace in a darker shade of pink and the skirts were a lighter shade. Features of the gowns were floating panels of light pink trimmed with a darker shade of lace, ending at the hem lines. Headpieces were fashioned of loops of lace forming bows and holding in place circular tiered veils of illusion. All held cascades of pink carnations.

A little flower girl, Elizabeth Ann Toundas, was in a long white dress with lace trim around the skirt. Her headpiece was a bow of pink with cascading back streamers. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Larry Heinke, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and Larry Gilmore and Charles Gilmore Jr., brothers of the bridegroom, served as groomsmen. Thomas Rapp was usher.

The bride's mother was attired in a green suit with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses, while the bridegroom's mother chose a yellow dress, black accessories and pink roses in her corsage.

Miss Beverly Grable was in charge of the guest book at the reception held immediately following the church service at the American Legion Home.

The newly-wedded pair will make their home in Mineral Wells, Tex., after a wedding trip. The bride was graduated from Granite City high school and attended Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus. Mr. Gilmore, a helicopter pilot in the U. S. Army, is stationed at Fort Worth, Texas. He was graduated from Collinsville high school and attended SIU-SW for two years before enlisting.

Paddlers Gain 1st Dual Meet Win Over Alton

The meet was divided into two days because of bad weather, forcing 26 events to be postponed to Thursday.

Dick Van Hook, swimming coach at Paddlers said, "When I started telling people that I thought we stood a good chance against Summersport they didn't believe me. I missed estimating the final score by only five points. Our boys and girls wanted this meet very much, and they swam their best."

Backstroke winners were Mary Beatty and Eric Cunningham, (ages 8-10), Cunningham again (13-14) and Sally Skirball (15-17).

Butterfly winners were Ken Jolly and Kathy Baggot (eight and under); Paddy Baggot and Karen Reisinger (11-12); Mark James and Ann Bickhaus (13-14); and Sue Van Hook (15-17).

Paddlers won the eight and under boys' and girls' freestyle relays, 11-12 girls' freestyle relay, 13-14 boys' freestyle relay and girls' 15-17 relay.

Members of those teams were Ken Jolly, Chris Barth, Jeff Odom and Jeff Conreux (eight and under); Lori Malotki, Tammy Terrell, Rose Baggot and Kathy Baggot (eight and under); Debbie Hodge, Sally Skirball, Karen Reisinger and Pat Cottrell (11-12); Mark Hatcher, Scott Loftus, Eric Cunningham and Mark James (13-14); and Sue Lybarger, Mary Ellen Dunn, Dianne Miller and Vicki Kubeka (15-17).

Today at the Paddlers pool there will be a minnow meet for those who don't get a chance to swim in conference (Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association) meets. Opponents will be Montclair of Edwardsville and the Gaslight Bath and Tennis club of Collinsville. The meet will begin at 5 p.m.

Tomorrow, the local team will be at Dupu to swim against the Hilltop team in a 6 p.m. conference dual meet.

Warrior Gridders Looking to 1968 Season

The Granite City high school Warriors football team will be facing its toughest schedule in recent years with a semi-experienced squad that failed to win during the 1967 campaign. Twenty-two major injuries to the last year's squad gave many young players the opportunity to gain game experience. Coach Jim Morrison pointed out:

The big problem this year will be to shake off the defeatist attitude brought on by last seasons record. It is the hope of the coaching staff that this squad can mature during the early season and improve steadily from game-to-game, Morrison added.

The coach of the Warriors commented, "Our opener against Belleville A-100 promises to be a real body builder, as the Crusaders have a veteran team returning from their highly successful 1967 season."

"The Southwestern conference promises to have a big year. Several members have been building teams for the campaign and coupled with the very strong Alton and Belleville West squads, Wood River, East St. Louis, Collinsville, will make the long hard climb a rough pull for the Fighting Warriors."

In this year's conference race, the experts say, almost anyone could come out on top by November. Wood River should have its best team ever; Collinsville and Edwardsville will be stronger and East St. Louis can't help but to improve on its '67 showing.

Promising young candidates for this year's teams are shaping up like this —

Granite City will have Jim Jones returning as a 4' 10" 185-pound fullback; Roger Belash, 5' 10" 170-pound quarterback; Tim Wallace, 6' 185-pound tackle; Nelson Hediger, 6' 1" 210-pound tackle and Jim Greenwald 6' 210-pound fullback, a standout junior on the squad.

Other returning senior lettermen this year will be Mike Bradford, fullback, Ralph Barrett, end, Jerry Cook, tackle, Dave Cooper, tackle, Roger Laws, end, Gene Livingston, end.

Alton will have Mike Jefferson, 6' 4" 200-pound quarterback; Gerry Wilson 5' 10" 190-pound fullback; Larry Bosaw 6' 170-pound halfback; Bob Everage 6' 1" 217-pound guard and Gary Hagen 6' 2" 200-pound end. Collinsville will have Mike Fletcher 6' 185-pound quarterback; Dan Nelson 5' 10" 190-pound fullback; Dan Cusanelli 6' 170-pound halfback; Sam LeFrank 6' 1" 186-pound tackle and Mike Stone 6' 171-pound 210-pound tackle.

Wood River has Roy Morris 6' 180-pound quarterback; Mike McKeever 6' 1" 180-pound split end; Kevin Watson, 6' 190-pound fullback; and Jim Burk 6' 1" 210-pound tackle.

Belleville West will have Tom Stock 6' 200-pound fullback; Phil Adamson 6' 2" 200-pound tackle; Mike Ripley 5' 11" 180-pound halfback; and Mark Clark 6' 200-pound tackle.

Edwardsville will have two strong players as Morris Bradshaw 6' 190-pound fullback and Scott Aljista 6' 190-pound end will be returning to the squad.

Larry Hayes 5' 10" 178-pound quarterback; Roderick Fisher 210-pound tackle and Gerald Hayes 200-pound end will be helping the East St. Louis club this year.

Police Find Truck
At 3:40 a.m. Friday, Granite City police discovered an abandoned truck near the levee on 20th street, apparently stolen earlier that night from National Auto Co. The owner of the vehicle was notified.

A word portrait of U. S. Grant, the Civil War hero and 18th President of the United States as he looked in his court- ing days, emerges in the current Grant Newsletter issued by John Y. Simon, Southern Illinois University historian and execu- tive director of the Ulysses S. Grant Association.

Simon reprints the first installment of a memoir written by Emma Dent Casey, published in a 1909 magazine, The Circle. Mrs. Casey's recollections of the dashing young lieut-

"At that time Lt. Grant's personal appearance was very attractive. He was very youthful looking, even for his age, which was just twenty-one. His cheeks were round and plump and rosy; his hair was fine and brown, very thick and wavy. His eyes were a clear blue, and always full of light.

"His features were regular, pleasingly molded and attractive, and his figure so slender, well-formed, and graceful that it was like that of a young prince to my eye.

SIU Historian Portrays Gen. U. S. Grant in 'His Courting Days'

"Indeed, I know that many persons who only knew General Grant after he had become famous did not think him handsome, but I can assure them that when he rode up to White Haven that bright day in the early spring of 1840 he was as pretty as a doll. At any rate, he enchanted me. He was my first sweetheart."

Mrs. Casey also described her sister, Julia (later Mrs. Grant): "At the time Lt. Grant met her, which was just twenty-one, she was a little creature as one would care to see. She was not exactly a beauty, a slight defect of one of her eyes marring the harmony of her features, but she was possessed of a lively and pleasing countenance. Aside from this cast in her eye she was very prettily made, indeed, and was considered to have an exquisite figure."

"She was plump, but neither tall nor stout, and she had the slimmest, prettiest foot and hand I have ever seen on any woman, while her arms were beautifully rounded. Her hair and eyes were brown, and she had a rosy complexion, that would be the envy of most girls of today."

She recounts that Julia wanted to have surgery to correct the cast in her eye, even having a surgeon come to the White House in secret to perform the operation.

Grant surprised the occupants of the impoverished operating room and ordered the surgeon away, saying, "Now, Julia, don't want you to do that. Your eye was this way when I married you and it's got to stay that way. You're pretty enough to suit me just as you are."

'Stars' Concert Attracts 600

An estimated crowd of 600 persons attended the third concert of the "Music Under the Stars" summer programs held Thursday evening at the rink-pavilion in Wilson Park.

Soloists included Mrs. Laura Danes, Jerry Doyle, Miss Debbie Milton and Mrs. Betty Blaylock. Robert Danes presided at the organ and Miss Janet Young at the piano. Also performing were the Music Under the Stars Junior high chorus and the adult chorus.

The final concert of the season will be July 25 at 8 p.m. and will be an all-classical program. Appearing on the program will be Raymond Voorhees, baritone, and his wife, Shirley, a soprano; Mrs. Laura Danes, a coloratura; and Miss Young, Bang Cho, a young Korean girl who is studying the piano at SIU-SW, and is a student at Coolidge junior high school. She receives training from Miss Ruth Slenczynska, Artist-in-Residence at SIU-SW campus.

A special guest, Allen Rosenkoetter from St. Louis will present a 20-minute program of classical music especially written for the guitar. He is an instructor for classical guitar at Washington University, St. Louis.

Moonlight Square Dance Jubilee Planned at SIU-SW

Quad-Cityans are invited to the free "moonlight folk and square dance jubilee" at SIU-SW campus mall Tuesday, July 23, at 7:30 p.m. Instructors will be on hand to assist beginning square dancers. Joe Obal of O'Fallon will be the caller.

The popular young people's group, The Checkerboard Squares of Granite City, will be featured with their 10-year-old caller, Shirley Boyd. The St. Louis square dance groups have been invited to the jubilee.

The SIU Folk Dancers, under the direction of Mrs. Regan Carpenter, and the SIU Square Dancers, directed by Mrs. Don Martin, will exhibit their proficiency in dancing. Both directors are members of the University's health, recreation and physical education faculty. In addition to traditional square dancing, the new contemporary type will be performed.

"This new square dancing requires high level intellectual ability, and the intricate steps are really a mind-expanding activity," according to Mrs. Martin, co-director of the evening program. "We plan to have a contemporary square dance group of campus students this fall," she added.

2 GC Men in Psychology Intern Program at Alton

Frank Bartlett and Anthony Mance both of Granite City are engaged in the Psychology Intern Program at Alton State Hospital with ten other area students.

Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent of the hospital, has named Don Tatro, PhD, clinical psychologist, as Director of the program, which is designed as a year-long internship for psychologists who have the masters degree and for those working toward it.

Dr. Tatro said, "The purpose of the program is to provide to students studying for their masters degree in psychology, the practical and a broad experience in testing patients, experience in psychotherapy and an understanding of working with treatment teams within various program settings. Through this year of internship of intensive training, we hope to attract psychologists into the field of mental health, and the eventual employment at our hospital.

"The first three months will be used to give students experience in testing and psychotherapy by all units of the hospital making direct referrals to them. They are under the direct supervision of Dr. Tatro, Bill Rogers, staff psychologist and consultants from University of Missouri, St. Louis University and from Southern Illinois University.

Information about employment will be obtained in a survey of households here this week, Director Theodore F. Olson of the Census Bureau regional office in Chicago announced.

The information will be used by the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics in determining national employment and unemployment figures. Last month's survey showed that the unemployment rate remained at 3.5 percent for the second consecutive month.

The identity of households throughout the U.S. participated in the survey is confidential, and the information obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.

Protestant Classes At Catholic College

Samuel C. Pearson Jr., of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus historical studies faculty will teach Protestant religion classes at two Catholic colleges next year.

The professor will be on leave from SIU-SW. He has received joint one-year visiting appointments to the faculties of St. Benedict's and Mount St. Scholastica colleges in Archdiocese of Chicago.

Pearson's appointment is being sponsored by a grant from the federal government program, Aid for Developing Institutions, under Title III. An ordained Disciple of Christ minister, he will introduce courses at the two colleges from a non-Catholic perspective. In addition the SIU-SW professor will conduct special seminars, one on Puritanism and a second one the Social Gospel, open to students of both colleges.

A resident of Alton, he holds the divinity and doctoral degrees from the University of Chicago.

Granite Cityan Seeking Talent For State Fair

Any Quad-City resident who is interested in performing at the State Fair this year, Aug. 9 to 18, may have the opportunity by contacting Mary Joyce, who has been appointed chief co-ordinator of talent by Franklin H. Rust, state fair manager.

Miss Joyce, who with her sister, appeared professionally 15 years ago, announced those who are chosen to appear on one of the six strategically located outdoor stages, will do so without any pay. They are selected from their resumes, pictures and tapes, which Miss Joyce reads and studies at her home.

She is supervisor of the trust accounting department at a St. Louis bank and cannot audition the hopeful entertainers personally. Anyone who is interested in performing may contact her at 877-3418 between the hours of 8 and 9:30 p.m. or write giving details of their talent and enclose a photograph to Mary Joyce, 2845 Madison avenue, Granite City.

Interested in a variety of talent, she stresses the performers will receive publicity and be performing before large crowds, and talent scouts who visit such programs. The big state fair show in the evenings will feature Lawrence Welk and his group.

Bartlyak, Bond Firm Named in $6125 Suit

Joseph R. Bartlyak, former Madison county state's attorney, and Maryland Casualty Co., are named defendants in a suit filed in circuit court at Edwardsville to recover $6125 in assets involved in an estate for which Bartlyak was administrator.

The proceeding was filed by the state in behalf of the First National Bank of O'Fallon as administrator of the late Robert D. Estes. The complaint alleges that Bartlyak became administrator of the Estes estate in January 1964, that he never filed an inventory on the estate and never turned over the assets of $6125 to the co-curator. The plaintiff alleges that Bartlyak therefore failed to comply with terms of his bond by the Maryland Casualty Co.

MORE ABOUT Miss GC

her Jaycee manager, Richard "Bruno" Domitrovich, who served as chairman of the local pageant, and Mrs. Domitrovich, Boyd Presley, Illinois Jaycee vice-president and an official of the Granite City chapter, and Mrs. Presley, and Darrell Grindstaff, the contestants' talented guitar accompanist.

Later this week, a large group of Jaycee supporters and several members of Miss Marmion's family will join those leaving today in Aurora, the Jaycee contingent will be headed by Dawdy and James J. Jeffries, immediate past president of the local club.

About 50 contestants are to register today at Aurora College, headquarters for the 1968 Miss Illinois Pageant. The bevy of beauties, representing small and large communities throughout the state, is one of the largest groups of state contestants in recent years.

At 8:30 p.m. today, residents of Aurora and surrounding towns, will get a preview glimpse of all the 1968 title hopefuls as the girls are escorted through the downtown area in a convertible parade. An orientation session follows at the college.

Busy Schedule

Reviewing her schedule for the coming week, Miss Marmion commented, "It appears that Monday is the only night we will get to bed fairly early." She noted that a "midnight pizza party" is planned for the contestants and chaperones to row evening.

Rehearsals, a necessary part of pre-contest preparation, get under way tomorrow, permitting the candidates an opportunity to familiarize themselves with different surroundings and to sharpen their performances for the big days ahead.

The first preliminary contest will be staged Wednesday evening, preceded by a reception and the start of a series of interviews with the contest judges. The poise, intelligence and personality of the girls are closely scrutinized by the judging panel during these important interviews, Miss Marmion explained.

Contestants are divided into three groups—A, B and C—which dictates their rehearsal and interview schedules and the order of appearance in the three preliminary events.

Three Appearances

Miss Granite City, as a member of "C" group, will appear Wednesday evening in the swimsuit segment, Thursday in formal attire and on Friday evening in the talent part of the contest.

As in the Miss Granite City Pageant, the state winner is selected on the basis of points accumulated for best appearance in a swimsuit (25%), best appearance in an evening gown (25%) and talent presentation and personality (50%).

Crowning Ceremony Saturday
Ten semi-finalists chosen from the 50 candidates in the three-day preliminary contests, will repeat the three phases of the pageant on Saturday night.

MISS GRANITE CITY—MISS LEETTA MARMION

climaxed by the crowning of the new Miss Illinois.

During today's orientation meeting, Miss Granite City and the other contestants will become acquainted with the stringent rules governing the state pageant—rules which are intensified at the Miss America Pageant in September and are designed to protect the privacy of the individual candidate and the integrity of the pageant proceedings.

Prior to joining the staff of Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, where she is employed as a safety deposit box attendant, Miss Granite City worked briefly for a St. Louis photographer as a photo tinner and retoucher.

Talented Artist

A talented artist who prefers working in oils, Miss Marmion studied art from the seventh through 12th grades and found a natural flair not only a hobby, but a financial asset when she sold several paintings during her junior and senior year.

It was in her Granite City high school art class that she met Darrell Grindstaff, also an artist and a fine guitarist, who has worked diligently with the Miss Illinois hopeful in perfecting her performance for the pageant. Both young people graduated in 1967 from the local high school.

In addition, Grindstaff also is employed by Granite City Trust & Savings as a relief teller. Commenting on several of her fellow workers remarks—"What a way to get a vacation, win the Miss Granite City contest," Miss Marmion explained, "They were referring to the fact I am not entitled to a holiday from work this year. I haven't been with the bank long enough."

"My employers, who also are sponsoring me in the pageant are giving me the entire week off with pay and I am very grateful," she added. Her immediate superior at the bank is Jaycee President Richard Dawdy, who is very proud of his youngest emcee.

Local Merchants Aid

Miss Marmion expressed gratitude to local merchants who have presented her with various clothing items for her appearance in Aurora. "Stephanie's gave me a lovely evening gown to wear and some wonderful discount and reduced prices on other clothing I needed, plus a beautiful bracelet," she said. She also received a negligee from Pauline's shop and a $50 gift certificate from Rich's Ladies Apparel.

Asked about her activities since winning the local contest on June 15, Miss Marmion said, "I've just been shaking, working and rehearsing . . . in that order."

It was hard to find evidence of a "shaky" girl in the sparkling green eyes, poised and confident manner which was displayed by the candidate as she left here today.

To encourage the Granite City contestant, Dawdy today suggested that well-wishers send telegrams and messages to her this week, care of Aurora College, Miss Illinois Pageant, Aurora, Ill. 60007.

Mishap at Crossing

An East St. Louis motorist virtually ripped out the rear suspension of his 1962 auto about 1 p.m. Saturday when the driver of his car dropped down and caught in the railroad tracks crossing Edwardsville road in Granite City. The auto of Fred Wilson had to be towed from the scene.

Price Favors Voting Upon Reaching Age 18

Eighteen-year-olds would be granted the right to vote in all elections if Congress acts on Cong. Melvin Price's proposed constitutional amendment presented to the House last week. The present minimum age is 21.

Price made the first representative from this region to suggest such a drastic departure from traditional concepts of political responsibility and maturity, a member of his staff said.

In prepared statement before the House of Representatives, Price, who is dean of the Illinois delegation to Congress, declared: "This generation of young adults is more fully prepared to accept the responsibilities of citizenship than any previous generation."

Price detects two different groups of young adults in America today who he thinks should be brought into the regular political process. His words were, "I am now convinced that we must act to give to those among the young who have loyally served their country during the past few years a chance to direct this nation's destiny, and to those who have worked to uproot the society and its cities an alternative to chaos and violence."

Continuing, he said, "We must give the amateurs and the young a chance to partake of the sense of accomplishment that comes from victories for progress and sanity that are won at the ballot boxes and not in the street."

More than 50 other senators and congressmen previously introduced similar measures. Recently, President Johnson suggested that the voting age be reduced to 18.

Price made it clear, however, that there is little chance for consideration of the measure during this session of the Congress if it adjourns about Aug. 1 for the national political conventions. However, he expects the proposal to be one of the major issues in his campaign for re-election, and one of the chief issues in the 91st Congress which will convene in January.

RESIDENTS of 2600 block of Angela drive look over stagnant, reed-filled slough that presents a health and nuisance problem. Marsh is supposed to drain toward background of photo where culverts

NEIGHBORHOOD YOUNGSTERS in area of 2600 block of Angela drive fish in marsh alongside street while parents deplore presence of once-natural drainage channel because it breeds snakes and

Poisonous snakes, giant mosquitoes, a health menace and a constant flood threat in rainy periods are problems plaguing residents in the 2600 and 2800 blocks of Angela drive because of a reed-filled marsh that never is completely drained.

As a result, residents of the neighborhood have prepared a petition, already containing 30 names, and plan to seek help from the Nameoki town board. Residents said they already have talked about the problem with Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, and have written the Illinois Department of Public Health.

The long slough extends about a quarter mile south of Angela drive, but for a more considerable distance northward where it is supposed to drain through culverts under the Alton & Southern tracks. The marsh is bisected by the 2600 block of Angela drive but is connected by a culvert beneath the roadway.

In periods of heavy rains the slough rises until it virtually becomes a small river with a depth of 10 to 12 feet, according to Mrs. Lois Mitchell, 2632 Angela drive, whose three-year-old brick home is within 25 feet of the shoreline when the water is at its lowest. At its high point, Mrs. Mitchell said, the waterline laps within a few feet of the foundation of her home.

Girl Nearly Drowned

Only a few weeks ago a little girl about three years old slipped from atop the culvert on the north side of the roadway and fell into the water.

Reed-Filled Marsh Causes Problems along Angela drive

Residents said they have considered annexation to Granite City and discussed the matter with Mayor Partbey. They were told, however, that annexation by petition was impossible now because of an intervening tract of property. The boundaries of an area to be annexed must adjoin those of the city.

The group said the petitioners expect to appear before the town board and press the issue further with state officials if they achieve no results at the town level.

But even if the section north of Angela drive were completely drained, that on the other side of the roadway still would present a problem.

Considered Annexation
Culverts under Angela drive which drains water from the south to the north side of the street are located high enough that a substantial water level exists on the south side regardless of the water level on the north side.

The new, brick homes in the area are served by septic tanks. This results in pollution of the water by sewage when rains swell the slough, filling septic tanks of homes nearest to the marsh, and then draining back into the slough as the water level subsides, the residents complain.

Blame Broken Promises
Persons living in the area blame "broken promises" by the developer of the area, and public officials whom they believe should take action, either against the developer or on their own, to correct the problem. When they bought their homes, the group said, they were told that the area now covered by the marsh was to be filled and built into a recreation facility.

Briggs said he is aware of the problem and has been seeking a conference with the owner of farm property on the opposite side of the roadway.

Illinois License Plates are Best-- 'Reflector-Wise'

The reflectorizing material used on Illinois motor vehicle license plates proved superior to others tested in a year-long study conducted by the University of Illinois Highway Traffic Safety Center, Secretary of State Paul Powell said today.

Factors studied in the test were durability, legibility and visibility. Four manufacturing companies submitted 10 samples of reflectorizing materials for the tests.

"Of the materials tested by this study, only Series 6, 7, 8, and 9 can be recommended for use," the university's report stated. "License plates made of these materials provided good durability, legibility and visibility, while plates utilizing other materials showed deficiencies in one or more areas."

All four of the series recommended for use were submitted by the company currently supplying the material used on Illinois plates, the 3M Company of St. Paul, Minn. Series 6 is the one being used.

Indicating the widespread interest in the subject, the U. of I. has sent copies of the report to 49 destinations, including five foreign countries, two Canadian provinces and 21 other states' governmental agencies and universities.

Copies also are being sent to members of Illinois legislative committees and commissions. Illinois-based traffic safety organizations and manufacturers' association and interested groups.

TROOP HIKE, SWIMMING

Junior Girl Scout Troop 29, sponsored by the Webster PTA, met Wednesday at the home of the leader, Mrs. Jackie Watkins, assisted by Mrs. Sheryl Glesick, to work on several requirements of the swimming badge.

The troop hiked to Jim's Aqua Land for a tour of the shop. The proprietor gave a talk on the care of many kinds of tropical fish.

The hike continued to the YMCA, where the members were instructed in the rules of the pool by Forrest Cockrell, physical fitness director. The girls were taught basic steps of floating and played a water relay game.

A cardboard and wood-strip panel, nailed by the owner across a previously broken window in the front door, had been pried off enabling the thieves to enter.

An attempted break-in at the Second Baptist Church, West 21st street and Illinois avenue, Thursday night was reported to police at 8:50 a.m. Friday by Gene Duggins, church caretaker, who said a plate glass panel had been knocked from a door at the front entrance to the church.

Offices Burglarized

Burglars broke into offices of Quality Sand Co., 449 Route 162, and made off with two cases of soda, a first aid kit and $1 in change from a soda machine, according to a report Thursday to sheriff's deputies at Edwardsville. Entry was gained by knocking a pane of glass out of a window and then unhooking it.

Two cases of soda, a quantity of oil in quart cans and three gasoline cans, with a total value of about $30, were stolen from Uptide's Service station, Route 162 and Horseshoe Lake road, according to a report to the sheriff's office Thursday by Bud Malear of Granite City. Entry was gained by breaking a front window with a rock.

Burglars took from $10 to $15 in a break-in of the secretary's office of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th street and Grand avenue, between 1 and 6 p.m. Sunday. It was reported at 6:30 p.m. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in the office door, and the desk was ransacked.

Burglars hauled off two 20-inch fans, a speaker and amplifier with a total value of $300 to $400 from the St. James Church of God in Christ, Calhoun and Selb streets, it was reported to Venice police at 7 a.m. Saturday by George Green, an officer of the church.

Seizure of Bank Papers

Two youthful gunmen, both wearing moccasins without socks, held up the Ben's Service station on Route 157 at 270, near Sunset Hill, at 11:30 p.m. Friday, getting an undetermined amount of money from the attendant, Owen Kitchen of Collinsville, who was forced to empty the cash register.

The pair sped away in a black 1964 four-door auto, heading toward Edwardsville. Kitchen told county authorities one of the bandits flashed an automatic pistol.

He said one was about 18, five feet seven inches tall and had black hair and was wearing a black tee shirt and maroon trousers. The other, about 30, was shorter and also weighed about 135 and had dark hair. He was wearing a tan sport shirt and black trousers.

1956 Auto Stolen

The 1956 two-door auto of Frank Ingram, 3000 St. Clair avenue, was stolen from in front of his home Saturday night.

Held in Venice

A Madison youth, 17, was held by Venice police today as a suspect in the burglary of O'Dell's Iron & Metal Co. store at State and Market streets, Venice. The break-in was discovered by a Venice patrolman about 2 a.m. Saturday when he noticed broken glass on the Market street side of the store.

The officer entered the store and found a .12-caliber gun and pistol shells stacked on the floor behind a counter, but no one was inside. Police learned that the youth had been seen in the vicinity of the store just before the burglary was discovered and was picked up a short time later, also in the vicinity of the store.

Venice authorities said the boy admitted the break-in in a signed statement, and told officers he had taken the loot to the home of a friend with whom he had been living. Police went to the address and recovered a pistol, 12 rounds of cartridges and two hammers. A burglary charge will be filed, police said.

Pool Hall Break-In

Burglars broke into the Tri-City Cue Center, 709 Madison avenue, Madison, late last night or early this morning, broke open the coin boxes of a pinball machine and juke box. Police reported an undetermined amount of change was taken from the two machines, along with about $2 in pennies that were in the cash register.

Entry was gained by prying open a back door.

The home of Melvin Cotter, 603 English place, Mitchell, was ransacked in a burglary between 5 p.m. Friday and 5:30 p.m. Sunday. It was undetermined if anything was missing. Entry was gained by breaking a wood panel in a window.

of Granite City. The tables were valued at $25 each.

Seek Recount of Votes in Nameoki Pct. 1 Election

The second Quad-City area election contest to grow out of the June 11 election of precinct committeemen has been filed in circuit court at Edwardsville by Louis E. Whittell, who had been declared the loser of the Democratic committeemen post on Saturday.

The suit is based on findings of the canvassing board June 23 which held Whittell polled 300 votes to 289 for incumbent Democratic committeeman Arnold Rutherford, Poll Judges, immediately after the election, listed Rutherford with 282 votes to 277 for Whittell.

A suit listing 21 plaintiffs was filed last week challenging the election of Marion G. Shong, incumbent Republican committeeman of Precinct One, Venice township. In that suit, the plaintiffs allege that all of them voted at home, although the official canvass gave Shong 19 votes out of 21 Managlarough, eight votes.

Under such court proceedings ballot bags may be reopened for a recount.

Whittell said that he had received three different counts of the vote following the close of the polling place of Precinct One. The complaint charges that an error or fraud occurred in the counting of the ballots and that a recount will show Whittell was the winner.

The present situation, he said, means that national and state government too often respond to pressures rather than needs and "too often assist the powerful rather than the powerless."

Another reason for discontinuing the season is that there was an unusually heavy kill of green-winged teal last year. Furthermore, numbers of breeding teal are much lower and the habitat is in poor condition.

Dr. John S. Gottschalk, director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, said an added recreational opportunity was provided by the September teal season and that efforts would be made to make early teal seasons feasible in the future.

Next?... 'Truth in Government'

(Crossett, Ark., News Observer)

Having wrestled mightily, and to great fanfare, with the problems of "Truth in Packaging" and "Truth in Lending," it would be a great service if Congress would take a half-hour to inform the public on "Truth in Government Aid."

Perhaps it could be a memorandum to be enclosed with all federal government benefit checks, income tax forms, census reports, and other mailings to taxpayers; it would read something like this:

"It is essential that all taxpayers understand the aid programs which the federal government has undertaken. So that there may be no misconceptions, we are here outlining the basic programs and their meanings."

"Federal Aid: This term is perhaps the most misunderstood of all Federal programs. Federal aid actually means 'free.'"

"Federal aid does not cost your government anything. The only cost is to you."

"Federal aid means that Congress has authorized the Executive Branch to take money from you, and give it, free, to someone else."

"Social Security: Under this program, Congress authorizes the Executive Branch to compel those who are employed to pay benefits to those now receiving them. The program presumes that future Congresses will eventually compel Congresses who work to pay you benefits."

Quad-Cities Could Become Regional Leader Through Sound Planning, Decisive Action

What community could be the pace-setter in the Illinois Metropolitan Area, the Madison-St. Clair counties territory separated from Missouri and from St. Louis by the Mississippi River?

Could it be Alton or Belleville, big but situated at the geographic extremes of the region? East St. Louis, largest of any city, but plagued with mammoth problems? Collinsville or Edwardsville, near the SIU-SW campus but largely 'bedroom communities'?

We nominate the Quad-Cities, an area with some problems but also with great potential—particularly if it meets such challenges as downtown area rejuvenation.

As Southern Illinois University has pointed out, there is a need for regional leadership and this community could fill it. This would then benefit not only the Quad-Cities but the entire region. Comments by SIU are worth noting.

The Illinois sector needs a leadership community—a community that will provide the stimulus as well as act as the catalyst to make the Illinois sector a vibrant, thriving socio-economic complex.

In the development of the St. Louis metropolitan area during the post-world war II era, while the Illinois sector grew significantly in population and industry, there has been very insignificant investment in major retailing establishments by the largest city in the area. Certainly, in an area as densely populated as the Illinois sector, there should be sufficient reason for this type of investment.

It has been proposed that one of the major reasons for the failure of these types of investments to materialize is the failure of the multitude of communities in this sector to show any indication of concern for the business community and/or for planning for the growth and development of these communities.

Granite City is as well located as nearly any other community in the area to assume the role of leadership.

If Granite City fails to assume this role, some other community might well realize, as many in Granite City have, that the challenge

Way Poor Can Be Aided Without Destroying Individual Incentive

By U. S. SENATOR CHARLES H. PERCY OF ILLINOIS

On July 10 I introduced the Private Enterprise Employment Incentive Act of 1968, which would provide for hiring and training 500,000 underemployed and unemployed persons during a three-year period.

The time is long overdue for a job for every American willing and able to work. The problem is particularly responsive to the demands of the Poor People's Campaign for full employment.

However, I oppose the concept of a guaranteed annual income regardless of effort. This would be destructive of individual incentive.

The bill would provide an incentive to private employers to employ and train such individuals by allowing an income tax credit to the employers for part of the wages paid to the employees. Federal appropriations would be required.

Businesses have convinced me that they do understand the problem of the hard-core unemployed and are interested in committing themselves to the solution of the problem.

It is now up to Congress to establish an atmosphere whereby the private enterprise system can tackle this problem, while the government has proven it cannot adequately solve by itself.

Weapons being used against the enemy were displayed and discussed at the Granite City Rotary meeting by John C. Sowers, associate ballistic engineer of the Western Cartridge Co.

William Vicens, minority floor leader of the Illinois House and a Democratic representative from Pontiac, will speak at a political picnic at Pontiac Beach.

GC City Council 8 p.m. Mon., July 15 City Hall
County Board 9:30 a.m. Wed., July 17 Courthouse
Madison School Bd. 7:30 p.m. Thurs., July 18 1707 Fourth st.
Venice Council 8 p.m. Fri., July 19 City Hall is for here and now as well as the future. The problem is to develop a series of action programs to draw attention to the community, develop a drawing power and become the arena of focus for the Illinois sector.

"The people who live and do business in Granite City surely will be able to think of many types of promotional programs that will bring attention to Granite City. The important consideration is that the promotional programs be carefully conceived, judiciously planned and religiously adhered to, and the scope and finesse of the program be worthy of those who conceived it and asked their reputation and fortunes to realize its success."

"There are many kinds of promotions that could be developed with a minimum of investment which should start the process of acquiring leadership for Granite City."

Assembly Action Advisable to Assure Staff of Four Associate Circuit Judges

The Illinois General Assembly in its special session opening today ought to act favorably on the Madison County Bar Association proposal to expand the number of associate circuit judges authorized for the Third Circuit. As the association points out, four associate judges have been utilized until now and are needed to adequately handle the caseload and avoid excessive trial delays.

Formal sanction of the number of associate judges in office at the statewide level of revision is the preferable method. It would be reasonable, since the fact that one died recently does not justify a less effective judicial system.

Replacements theoretically can be obtained on a temporary basis by transfers from other circuits, but backlogs should not be allowed to get bad enough to form the basis for such requests. And it is far from certain that such assistance will be available at all times, since backlogs also exist elsewhere in Illinois.

An additional factor worthy of consideration by legislators is the population distribution of Madison county, which has two large population centers—the Quad-City and Alton-Wood River areas—to serve as well as providing county services that can best be handled at the county seat.

Borrow the $60 Million But Repay It

Bipartisan agreement apparently will prevent any state tax increase this month, with up to $60 million to be borrowed from the motor fuel tax fund and the remaining $67 million to be repaid by the state through a combination of bond issues and limiting state hiring and equipment purchases.

This has to be good news for harried taxpayers already beset by the 10% federal income tax surcharge. But it will be essential that the borrowed funds be repaid, since they are promised to local-level governments which already have made plans for badly-needed road improvements that depend on the availability of the $60 million.

The payback provision is especially important because another $122 million in MFT bonds already has been authorized in the 1967-69 biennium and will not be repaid.

More people can stand up against failure than against success.

Illinois in 1818-- State Formed A Cavalry Division to Fight 500 Warriors Led By Chief Black Hawk

Illinois is the only state that ever raised a Cavalry Division to fight an Indian war. Cavalry divisions have been scarce in any United States except the Civil War.

Even the famous 1st Cavalry Division of World War II, Korea and Vietnam had no fighting record as a division until after horse cavalry was abolished.

But the 1st Division of Illinois Militia of 1832 was made up almost exclusively of Mounted Volunteers — who brought their own horses.

And the Black Hawk War was an almost classic example of the employment of the traditional militia system.

The militia idea derived from England, where every free man in a county was required to be ready to take up arms in case of invasion.

Since England was never invaded after 1066, militia had little use there.

But the idea was ideal for American colonies, where all citizens were taught to shoot and keep their powder dry in case of trouble with French, Spanish, Dutch or Indians.

After the Revolution, an act of Congress provided "that each and every free, able-bodied, white male citizen of the respective states, residents therein," from 18 to 45 years of age — in the Northwest Territory it was 18 to 30 — shall severally and respectively be enrolled in the militia by the captain or commanding officer within whose bounds such citizen shall reside."

Each citizen was to have a good musket or firelock — or a good rifle — and at least 20 rounds of ammunition.

At annual Muster Days, militiamen were assigned to their places in companies and drilled. The companies were assigned to regiments, often representing a congressional district, and the regiments were grouped in regional brigades.

Officers were appointed or elected to head all these units. In emergency, the companies were mustered, and volunteers asked to the number required, to serve usually for two months, sometimes for three.

This was the set-up when Governor John Reynolds called alarmed over Black Hawk's "invasion."

The Sauks (or Sacs) and Foxes were latecomers to Illinois and lived mainly in a half-dozen villages along the Mississippi River.

In a couple of territories, their chiefs sold their claims to land in Illinois and, in 1830, Keokuk led them all into Iowa.

Black Hawk was not so important as naming a war for him and subsequent publicity would indicate. His following probably never numbered more than half his tribe and his rabble-rousing got few recruits from other tribes.

He denied that he was bound by treaties signed by Keokuk or any other chiefs. And he had a point, for chiefs were not kings and they were not elected representatives.

In 1831, Black Hawk came back to Illinois and took over his village at the mouth of Rock River. Regular Army troops were called out and 1600 Illinois militia for 15 days.

Without any fighting, Black Hawk went into Iowa and signed an agreement to stay there.

But he did not. He recrossed the river on April 6, 1832, with 500 warriors on horseback—this was the first war against mounted Indians — and the rest of his following, including women and children, in canoes paddling up Rock River.

The Sauks and Foxes were among the greatest canoe experts among Indian tribes.

Governor Reynolds called on the militia for 1000 mounted volunteers, 1800 showed up at Beardstown. They were organized as a brigade of four regiments, a Spy Battalion, an Odd Battalion, and eight unattached companies.

Apparently the only infantry consisted of two companies from the Odd Battalion "detached for food purposes."

The "minutemen" of this militia unit consisted of an Odd Battalion of Mounted Volunteer Rangers under command of Brigadier General Isaiah Stillman acting as major for the battalion, and Major Bailey's battalion. They went out along the Rock River looking for the Indians.

DANGERS CREATED BY IGNORING STOP SIGNS

To the Editor:

I knew that there were and are places in Granite City where people never bother to stop at corner stop signs. But I never realized, until recently, how dangerous these people make our city a dangerous place to live.

I saw my neighbors' dog get hit. The person responsible was a reckless driver who never stopped at the corner stop sign and who didn't even bother to stop after the accident.

I realize that it was only a dog which was killed but what if it had been a child? I'm speaking to all of the owners of cars. What if it had been your child? I am here to stop and look, and to keep in mind that the next animal or child hit could be their own.

Investing for College Education

(Investment Education Institute)

Q—I have two children, five and eight, and would like to make relatively safe investments aimed at paying for their college educations. I feel I can put $50 a month into investing. How should I go about this?

A—I recommend a three-pronged approach.

Put a third of your monthly savings into a savings account; a third into convertible debentures of a good-growth corporation; and a third into the common stock of a good growth company.

Talk over this objective with your broker or bank trust officer for assistance in selecting the specific securities.

Q—How do I figure the percentage of return on my stock investment?

A—Take the price you paid per share and divide it into the annual dividend.

Let's suppose you paid $50 a share and the dividend is 50 cents a quarter or $2 a year: $2 divided by $50 is .04.

You can do the same thing with the total amount invested. Say you invested $1000 and own 20 shares. The dividend is $1 a share per year, or $40 on 20 shares; $40 divided by $1000 is .04, the rate of return on your $1000 investment.

Q—I bought bonds of a company shortly after world war II for $25,000. They pay 2 1/2% and have a 1974 maturity date. Recently I considered selling, but found they are only worth $21,900, so I held off. Should I go ahead and get rid of them?

A—You still own bonds that will be worth $25,000 at maturity. You'll get your $25,000 in 1974, unless the issuing company goes into a disastrous decline in the meantime. You have run into one of the "red flags" of the ownership of bonds. Bonds will be worth their face value at maturity, but the intervening years there is no assurance they can be sold at any given time for the price originally paid. This even applies to U. S. government bonds.

Presently, U. S. government bonds are listed at 90. With a par value of $1000, a bond listed at 90 is worth at the time, $900. This does not mean that the investors have decided the United States government's credit is no good. It simply means that bonds generally sell on the basis of yield rather than face value.

Investors can get 4% or 5% in bank savings, so there is no great demand for the 2 1/2% you've been holding. The price has come down so that today's buyer will get the higher income than you.

I would say three factors should be considered as a reason for selling your bonds:

(1) Do you really need the money? Do you have to have the cash immediately, then, of course, sell them.

(2) Would a tax loss of $100 be helpful to you? If it would, you could probably find another bond of approximately equivalent quality and yield. If you switched to it, you could then use the tax loss resulting from the sale against other capital gain income.

(3) Do you have another investment you understand well, and do you see the opportunity of gaining more by putting your money into it?

Nine-Mile Fishery Zone Outside Three-Mile Territorial Sea Area

(U. S. Department of State)

I know that we changed the breadth of the territorial sea from 12 to 12 miles in 1966, but I do not know the official date of this change or the reasons for this change.

I would appreciate any information on the questions.

T. W. Dear Mr. U. S.

The United States has always maintained a three-mile territorial sea and this has not been changed.

However, Congress passed an act on Oct. 14, 1966, establishing a nine-mile fishery zone contiguous to the territorial sea of the United States.

The United States exercises in this zone the same exclusive rights in respect of fisheries as it has in its territorial sea.

The status of the waters of the zone as high seas is not changed.

For the reasons which prompted Congress to extend the exclusive fisheries jurisdiction to 12 miles, you may wish to examine the report of the Committee on Commerce of June 12, 1966, No. 2218. The report is number 1280.

In a recent meeting, water falls from the sky as precipitation—rain, snow, dew—and is returned to the atmosphere through evaporation and the life processes of plants.

Some water cycles are completed quickly, as when the precipitation falls as morning dew, immediately evaporates, and then soon falls to earth again.

Other water is more permanently associated with the ground in lakes and streams (which, however, lose tremendous quantities of water daily through evaporation).

A drop of water that seeps underground into porous rocks may not complete the full cycle for hundreds of years.

Malaria is causing economic loss in Illinois estimated at $4,500,500 a year, causing poverty by curtailing farm work.

Deputy Coroner Joseph Krill conducted inquests in the deaths of two local residents killed when struck by fast passenger trains, one a mile south of Nameokil and the other in Madison.

A St. Louis confidence man tried unsuccessfully to bilk John Macky, who married Mrs. Anna Lovs of Granite City a few weeks ago. He tried to tell Macky a machine to manufacture U. S. money, asking him to put up $30,000 as the manufacturing business could be started on a large scale.

The money machine was a small black box equipped with a number of electrical devices. When its crank was turned, real dollar bills emerged from it. They had been placed in it before it was shown to him, however.

Amount of Water Remains Constant But Demand, Purity Are Changing

(Illinois Committee for Pure Air and Water)

In spite of the vast uses of water in the state each day, to say that Illinois suffers from a water shortage is to oversimplify the situation. In reality, the state has three times as much water as residents are using.

The problem arises in the purity of that available water and its location.

In a reversing cycle, water falls from the sky as precipitation—rain, snow, dew—and is returned to the atmosphere through evaporation and the life processes of plants.

Some water cycles are completed quickly, as when the precipitation falls as morning dew, immediately evaporates, and then soon falls to earth again.

Other water is more permanently associated with the ground in lakes and streams (which, however, lose tremendous quantities of water daily through evaporation).

A drop of water that seeps underground into porous rocks may not complete the full cycle for hundreds of years.

Increased Motivation

Premiums Total $1,000,000 for Ill. State Fair

The first Illinois State Fair was held Oct. 11-14, 1883, on a 20-acre site on the western outskirts of Springfield. Conceived and promoted by a group of farmers organized as the Illinois State Agricultural Society, the first fair attracted 785 entries and offered $844 in premium awards.

This year's fair will have more than $1,000,000 in premiums and livestock entries, alone, total more than 15,000.

There was no Illinois State Fair in 1882 because of the Civil War; in 1883 because of the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago and none in 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945, when the U. S. Army Air Force used the fairgrounds in Springfield as a supply depot during World War II.

The State Fair has not always been in Springfield, although it has been held in the Capital City since 1894. After the second fair in Springfield in 1884, the exposition was moved between 12 cities, for 40 years. Host cities included Alton, Centralia, Chicago, Decatur, Du Quoin, Freeport, Jacksonville, Olney, Ottawa, Peoria, Quincy and Springfield again. In 1884 Springfield was selected as the permanent site.

The Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield is used throughout the year by many and varied organizations and groups.

More than 400 different events are held there in a year. These include cattle and swine shows and sales; shows and activities of the Morgan Horse Association and the Midwest Horse Show Association; the State Police Training School and the American Legion's Premier Boys State, where young men live and study on the grounds for a week. Senior Citizens' events, cooking schools, antique sales, religious, civic and social affairs are among activities in the Illinois Building.

Nearly 400 harness horses are quartered on the fairgrounds during the winter because of the excellent barns and racing facilities, including both a half-mile and a mile track. In a peak month the grounds housed 800 show and harness horses.

Kirkpatrick Teens Attend IYC Conference

Four delegates from Kirkpatrick Homes Teen Club returned home last evening from Springfield, Ill., where they attended a two-day community service conference at Concordia Seminary sponsored by the Illinois Youth Commission.

The delegates, James Barnes, club president, Cecil Slavings, Sharon Widel and Karen Kramer, were accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Kramer, adult adviser. Club members are planning a picnic Saturday at Pere Marquette State Park, Mrs. Kramer said.

Madison Ave. Collision

As she was backing out of a driveway at 2823 Madison avenue at 7:55 a.m. Friday, Nancy A. Woodward of that address struck the rear of an auto driven by Joseph E. Hiles of 58 Bermuda lane, who was traveling south.

Survey Made at EIU Shows Veterans are Good Students

Eastern Illinois University feels a special responsibility for returning servicemen and the young veterans have responded by making good. The figures are here to prove it.

A study made by Dr. William Zeigel, vice-president for administration, left him with this conclusion:

"There is considerable merit in the policy of reinstating returning veterans regardless of their scholastic records. Something apparently happens to increase motivation and seriousness of purpose.

A policy adopted by the University last year permits former servicemen to enroll for any quarter of the school year, provided Eastern at Charleston is the first school attended since military release.

During the year, 25 petitions were approved by the committee on admissions for either reinstatement or admission for the fall, winter or spring quarters. (Eighteen additional petitions were approved for the summer quarter, but the academic records of these veterans will not be available until the end of the quarter.)

"Of the 25 petitions approved, seven were granted to transfer students who had been dropped elsewhere before entering service. One who was granted permission to enroll did not do so. The other six now have cumulative grade point averages of from 2.27 to 3.33 ('C-' equals 2.00) for the time they have been back in school."

"It appears that all of these persons have made the transition from the military to academic life and off to a good start," Zeigel said.

Eighteen former Eastern students were reinstated by the committee, but five of these did not enroll. Zeigel said some of these may not have been released on schedule, some may have enrolled elsewhere, and still others may have accepted employment.

Mrs. Wasylyak, 78, Dies; 60-Year Local Resident

Mrs. Caroline Wasylyak, 78, Apt. 97 Grenzer Homes, Madison, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 9 p.m. Friday. She had been ill for eight months and in the hospital for two weeks.

Born in Poland, she resided in Madison for 60 years. She was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church and the Polish National Union, Lodge 149.

Her husband preceded her in death on April 27, 1959.

Survivors included three daughters, Mrs. Antonette Dolosic, Mrs. James (Agnes) Johnson, both of Granite City and Mrs. Michael (Mary) Bero of Madison; three sons, Charles and Ted Wasylyak of Granite City and Harry Wasylyak Jr. of Madison; one sister, Mrs. Anna Mulnik of Madison, 19 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Building Permit Issued

Permit for construction of a residence in Dream Villa Fourth Addition has been granted by the city to Jim Watts Construction Co. Cost of the seven-room house is estimated at $20,000. The permit was among 23 issued since July 1. Other permits were for razing, construction of carports, installation of new roofing and other repairs.

Of the 13 who enrolled, only two were again dropped for academic deficiency. The others are making good, with the grade point averages up to 3.75 of a possible 4.00.

These scholastic records have been compiled by students who were in the lower 50% of their high school classes.

"It is obvious," Zeigel said, "that these men are dedicated or they would not have enrolled. And it is equally obvious that they are hard workers or they would not still be here. Eastern is glad to have the servicemen return for another chance. They deserve it and contribute much to the University."

Boy 6, Attacked, Bitten By Dog in Yard of Home

Greg Ezell, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ezell, 5125 Old Alton road, Mitchell, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday night for dog bites about the hips inflicted by a German Shepherd dog that attacked the youngster in the back yard of his home about 7 p.m., according to a report to the sheriff's office.

The boy's father informed deputies the dog was one of five German Shepherds kept by a neighbor. The dog apparently leaped a four-foot fence around the dog kennel. Ezell said he was forced to fire a shot near the dog to drive him off the youngster. The care was referred to the Madison county humane officer.
